

Jesus' Mission Invitation

On this first Sunday of the "mission month" of October, we recall the many instances in the Gospels where Jesus calls people to follow him in mission. We are familiar with the call of the twelve apostles; however, we also remember that Jesus chooses seventy-two followers and sends them out on mission (Lk 10:1-12). Thus, we should conclude that mission is for all of Jesus' disciples—all baptized Christians, not just the religious or ordained. Mission begins with Jesus' choice: "You did not choose me, no, I chose you; and I commissioned you to go out and bear fruit, fruit that will last" (Jn 15:16).

Recall that "the harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few" (Lk 10:2). This was true in Jesus' time and remains true today. We must recognize the great task that faces us as Christians in the world; we turn to the Lord in prayer, asking for additional harvesters. Jesus also gives various instructions: "Be on your way." Do not delay! Go, and go now!

Remember that you will face many challenges; you will be like lambs in the midst of wolves. Recognize that some people will welcome your message, while others will reject both you and your very mission. Jesus advises his missionaries to "travel light." Don't let material "stuff" weigh you down and get in the way of your ministry of preaching Jesus' Good News.

The missionary is to extend peace to everyone; in other words, the Christian message is one of "mercy and compassion" (theme of Pope Francis' 2015 visit to the Philippines). In addition, recall Pope Francis' advice to go to the margins, the peripheries, to the excluded in society. Indeed, as Christians we all are to carry on the mission task that Jesus gave us; we are joyful heralds of Christ's Good News!
